Dear Dr. McClung:

I have your letter of the 16th concerning material for the archives. I am sorry that I will not be able to be of more help.

1. Owing to the fact that Tatum and I had only just then completed a retrospective review, I did not feel that the time of the Eli Lilly & Co. award was opportune for publishing the address, which covered almost identical ground. I am sending two reprints under separate cover of that review; it covers much the same material as the address. I did promise Perry Wilson to furnish, in lieu of the address, a review at a later, and more appropriate time. The ms. is promised for the Bacteriological Reviews, due June 30 this year.

2. I am afraid you will have to ask Dr. Dack for the citation. I heard it, but do not remember the details.

3. I do not have a photograph at the moment, but will send one later sometime.

4. I can enclose a bibliography. # 35 is the article mentioned above.

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg
Professor of Genetics
